HARLAN'S ON EXHIBIT

Come with us through this art gallery of activities collected for you by the Journalism Department of Harlan High School.

Pleasant memories have been painted by the staff, as artists, using you, the students, as subjects.

Your varied activities have provided us with a palette of colors and have enabled us to depict scenes which in future years should recall many happy hours.

Dedication

With heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for his untiring efforts, we, the Harpoon Staff of 1954, dedicate this yearbook in the memory of Hugh Patterson. He, who for six years drove the school bus, will be long remembered not only by the students who rode on his bus, but also by other students who were greeted by his friendly smile.

Find the Unknown

After Howard Pedersen, assistant custodian, has swept the rooms with the help of Jerry Summers, Nels Miller, head custodian, locks the door.

Familiar Faces

Jean Anderson is typing a letter for Mr. Killion at the central office. As the secretary to the superintendent, Jean keeps the books, answers phones, and handles school activity funds.

George Weber, John Quist, Paul Grulke, Edwin Larsen, and Otto Sorensen, the school's bus drivers, bring rural students in to school every morning.

Memories! Aren't they swell? Every phase of our high school life will bring memories we shall never forget. Remember Paris Night Club Prom, "Our Miss Brooks," class day, baccalaureate and commencement?

The Seniors chose carnation as their class flower, navy and white as their colors, and "Character is the true diploma" as their motto.

One of the big events of the year is Homecoming. The Seniors worked very hard on their float, for they realized that work and friends would soon be a thing of the past.

Then at last came the big moment—the restless line of Seniors, the well-remembered "Pomp and Circumstance," and the handing out of diplomas.

As they walked down the aisle for the last time, the class of '54 recalled four happy years in Harlan High.

Juniors

Eager to earn money for a nice prom, the junior class was very busy this year. Their first project was working at the refreshment stand for the football games. In spite of uncooperative weather, the money rolled in.

One of the big events of the year was the class play called the "Curious Savage" which was presented on December 2. Long hours were spent in learning the parts, polishing dramatic abilities, and setting up props.

Yes! the juniors knew how to get things done and also had fun doing them.

Sophomores

Full of fun and pep the "sophs" continually enjoyed life. It's probably because they were not "green" anymore and were now firmly and confidently settled in the ways of school.

This year the "sophs" won second prize on their float.

While they did not have as many activities as the juniors and seniors, they were still "busy as bees!"

Freshmen

Although newly initiated into the customs and occasions at Harlan High, the freshman class soon got into the "swing" of it.

The Freshman Mixer presented the opportunity for the newcomers and upper classmen to become acquainted.

With a fine first year already turned in, the school is expecting many leaders out of this group in the future.

Harpoon Staff

Most Harpoon staff members will agree writing copy, taking pictures, and planning layouts is a full-time job. There were times when editor, Mary Lou Sorensen, and assistant editor, Patty Christensen, wondered if they would meet the March 1 deadline.

Two staff members attended the Drake University Journalism Convention at Des Moines where they received the latest information on yearbook publications.

Cyclone Staff

"Meet the deadline" was the familiar saying on Monday morning when Cyclone editor, Skip Louis, issued news assignments.

A new feature was added when a king and queen were chosen by the subscribers to the bi-weekly newspaper. Skip Louis was elected the first king, with Irene Petersen as queen. Attendants were Norma Petersen, Beverly Bramer, Dean Goodmanson, and Jack Rossmann.

"Little Wind," a grade school newspaper, was also published separately from the high school paper for the first time. Editors for the Park School paper were Pat Griffin and Carol Tayler, and Laurel editors were Rose Ann Peters and Kathryn Sorenson.

Girls' Athletic Association

Another busy year has been completed by the G. A. A. Beginning the year by holding a chili supper to initiate the freshmen members, they continued by attending a Denison play day and sponsoring a roller skating party and a square dance.

Some members planned a rope jumping demonstration, which they presented during the half of the Wheelers' basketball game on February 19.

Eating on the floor is very unusual for most of us, but not for the Latin Club members. This was only one of the Roman customs demonstrated at the Roman Banquet which highlighted the year for the Latin Club.

Second prize in the Homecoming Parade was the reward for the work on their float, "The Throne of Victory."

Latin Club and Library Club

Dunking for apples and Halloween games were featured at a social party by the Library Club on October 26.

Officers for the year were: Pat Griffin, president; Agnes Reisz, vice president; Jane Campbell, secretary; and Janice Miller, treasurer.

Their work included plans for improving the school library system.

Future Farmers of America

Harlan delegates who attended the National F. F. A. Convention at Kansas City from October 12-15 heard President Eisenhower speak. This boys' organization held their annual parent-son banquet in the fall of the year.

The project of this Future Farmers of America organization is to raise a chain litter of swine, and each year the swine are owned by a different club member. Richard Book owned the chain litter this year. Another project was to place welcome signs outside the city limits.

Richard and Robert Book and Jerome Burmeister prepare an F. F. A. Poster.

Hi-Y

In the past few years the Hi-Y has become outstanding in southwest Iowa as a service group. This organization planned and presented the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies and sponsored the school's float in the Christmas parade.

As public service projects, the club displayed posters in the community during the tuberculosis drive and contributed the proceeds of a school dance to the World Service Fund.

Hi-Y. a boys' organization, promotes clean Christian character.

Sweaters! All types and colors were seen at the dance following the Harlan-Atlantic game on November 30. This was the "Sweater Swing" sponsored by the Pep Club.

"Create pep" was the motto of this group as it planned this year's assemblies. Eight members from each class were elected to membership in the Pep Club, Those who participated in pep band, cheerleading, or in competitive sports were honorary members.

Pep Club and Junior Hi-Y

Junior Hi-Y was newly organized this year with Mr. Ned Ratekin as adviser. The twenty-eight members, composed of freshmen and sophomores, elected Dick Wilcox as the first president. Other officers were: Doug Larson, vice president; Allen Boysen, secretary; and Keith Bauer, treasurer.

JUNIOR HI-Y—FIRST ROW: D. Van Duyn, K. Bauer, A. Boyen, B. Miller, L. Clayton, J. Polzois. SECOND ROW: D. Larson, J. Johnson, H. Marsh, G. Schnepel, J. Petersen, F. Nelson, J. Thirty-two students were members of the Ninety Club for the first semester. This honor organization was established to give recognition to those students who received all A's or B's in their subjects for three consecutive six-week periods.

Ninety Club and National Honor Society

Hugh Allen, Fred Louis, Jack Rossmann, and Kathryn Sorenson, who were initiated into membership in the National Honor Society last year, were in charge of receiving new candidates into this year's membership. They were assisted by four preceptors: Carol Schneider as Character, LuAnn Maassen as Leadership, Gloria Andersen as Scholarship, and Shirley Petersen as Service.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY—FIRST ROW: R. Peters, K. Sorenson, M. Sorensen, Miss Buthweg, adviser. SECOND ROW: M. Cullison, B. Booth, D. Goodmanson, F. Louis, P. Savereide. THIRD ROW: Mr. Marsden, adviser; D. Lucas, R. Nelson, S. Walker, J. Rossmann, L. Henriksen. Absent: H. Allen.

Tragedy and comedy masks are the symbols of the Thespian organization. Students who have participated in several school productions are eligible for membership in the Thespians.

The three one-act plays were projects of the dramatics group, with three of the members as student directors.

Thespians and Quill and Scroll

Thirteen students were initiated into Quill and Scroll this year. A junior or senior is eligible for membership if he is in the upper one-third of his class, has done superior work in some phase of journalism, and is a member of the yearbook or newspaper staff. Names of candidates are submitted to the executive secretary of the National Quill and Scroll for approval.

"Bach to Boogie" and anything in between was played this year in concert band.

Following marching band season the band and the mixed chorus combined their musical abilities and presented a program, with the student body as an audience.

Under the direction of Mr. Pundmann many hours were spent in preparing for the mid-winter and spring concerts. They also participated in contest.

As an exchange engagement, the Harlan band journeyed to Denison and informally presented several musical selections.

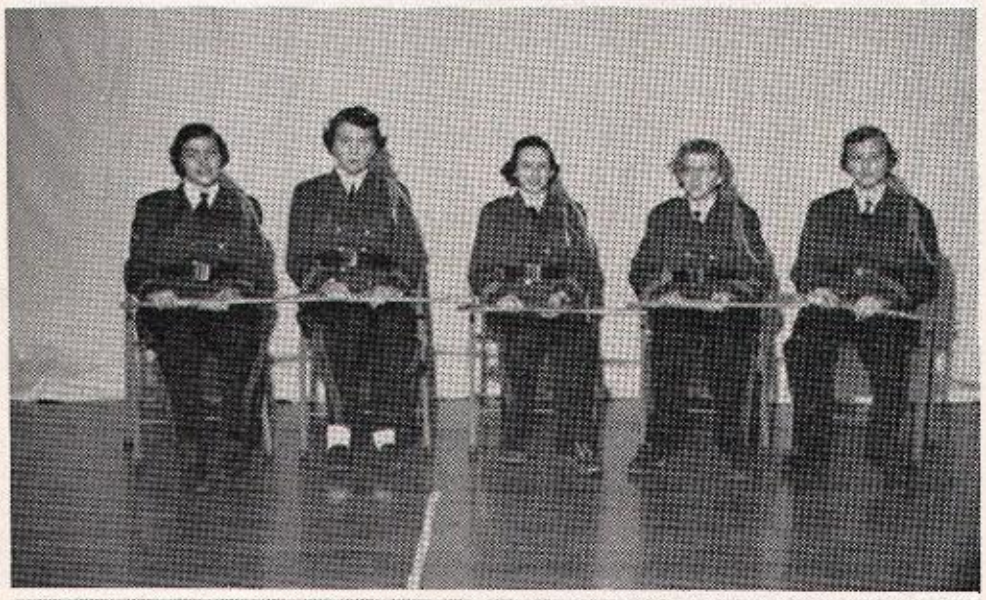
Concerts Throughout Year

CONCERT BAND—FIRST ROW: C. Peck, J. Laughlin. SECOND ROW: J. Norgaard, P. Jensen, F. Louis, R. Wigness, R. Nelson. THIRD ROW: L. Maassen, A. Boysen, T. Potter, F. Nelson, J. Louis, G. Scull. FOURTH ROW: R. Burmeister, R. McKeighan, T. Savereide, S. Thorngren, J. Juhl, K. Bauer, R. Pedersen.

The various uniforms of the members of the clinic band added color to the concert which was the grand finale of a full day's rehearsal. Harlan was host to the 120 selected members at the second annual band clinic which Mr. Lentz, head of the Music Department at Nebraska University, conducted.

Officers for the year were: President, Elizabeth Jensen; Vice President, Skip Louis; Secretary, Irene Petersen; Manager, Inez McKnabb; Chief Quartermaster, Raymon Pedersen; and Student Conductor, Richard Nelson.

Instrumental Groups Play for Civic Clubs



Hours of practice are necessary to prepare for contest. Each group enters with anticipation of receiving a I rating at state.

A pre-contest concert was presented by the ensembles and soloists this year.

These small groups are always in demand to perform for various civic organizations.

FLUTE TRIO: B. Booth, I. Petersen, J. Laughlin.

BRASS SEXTET: R. Nelson, E. Jensen, T. Potter, C. Rossman, K. Bauer, B. Wigness.

MIXED CLARINET QUARTET: I. McKnabb, J. Burmeister, S. Petersen, B. Crawford.

FLUTE QUINTET: I. Petersen, J. Laughlin, R. Burke, C. Peck.

Ensembles Present Pre-Contest Concert

CLARINET TRIO: I. McKnabb, B. Crawford, P. Savereide.

DRUM ENSEMBLE: T. Savereide, J. Juhl, S. Thorngren, P. Petersen, R. Burmeister.

SAXOPHONE QUARTET: K. Hendersen, P. Schell, L. Massen, K. Haskell.

BRASS QUINTET: G. Scull, Betty McKnabb, R. Pedersen, A. Boysen, J. Louis.

CLARINET QUARTET: I. McKnabb, P. Savereide, C. Rosmann, B. Crawford.

Peggy Schell, drum majorette, led the band as it displayed its routines and formations at the various events.

The twirlers were Helen Summers, Kitty Barnett, Judy Lucas, Margaret Jacobsen, and Sally Gearhart.

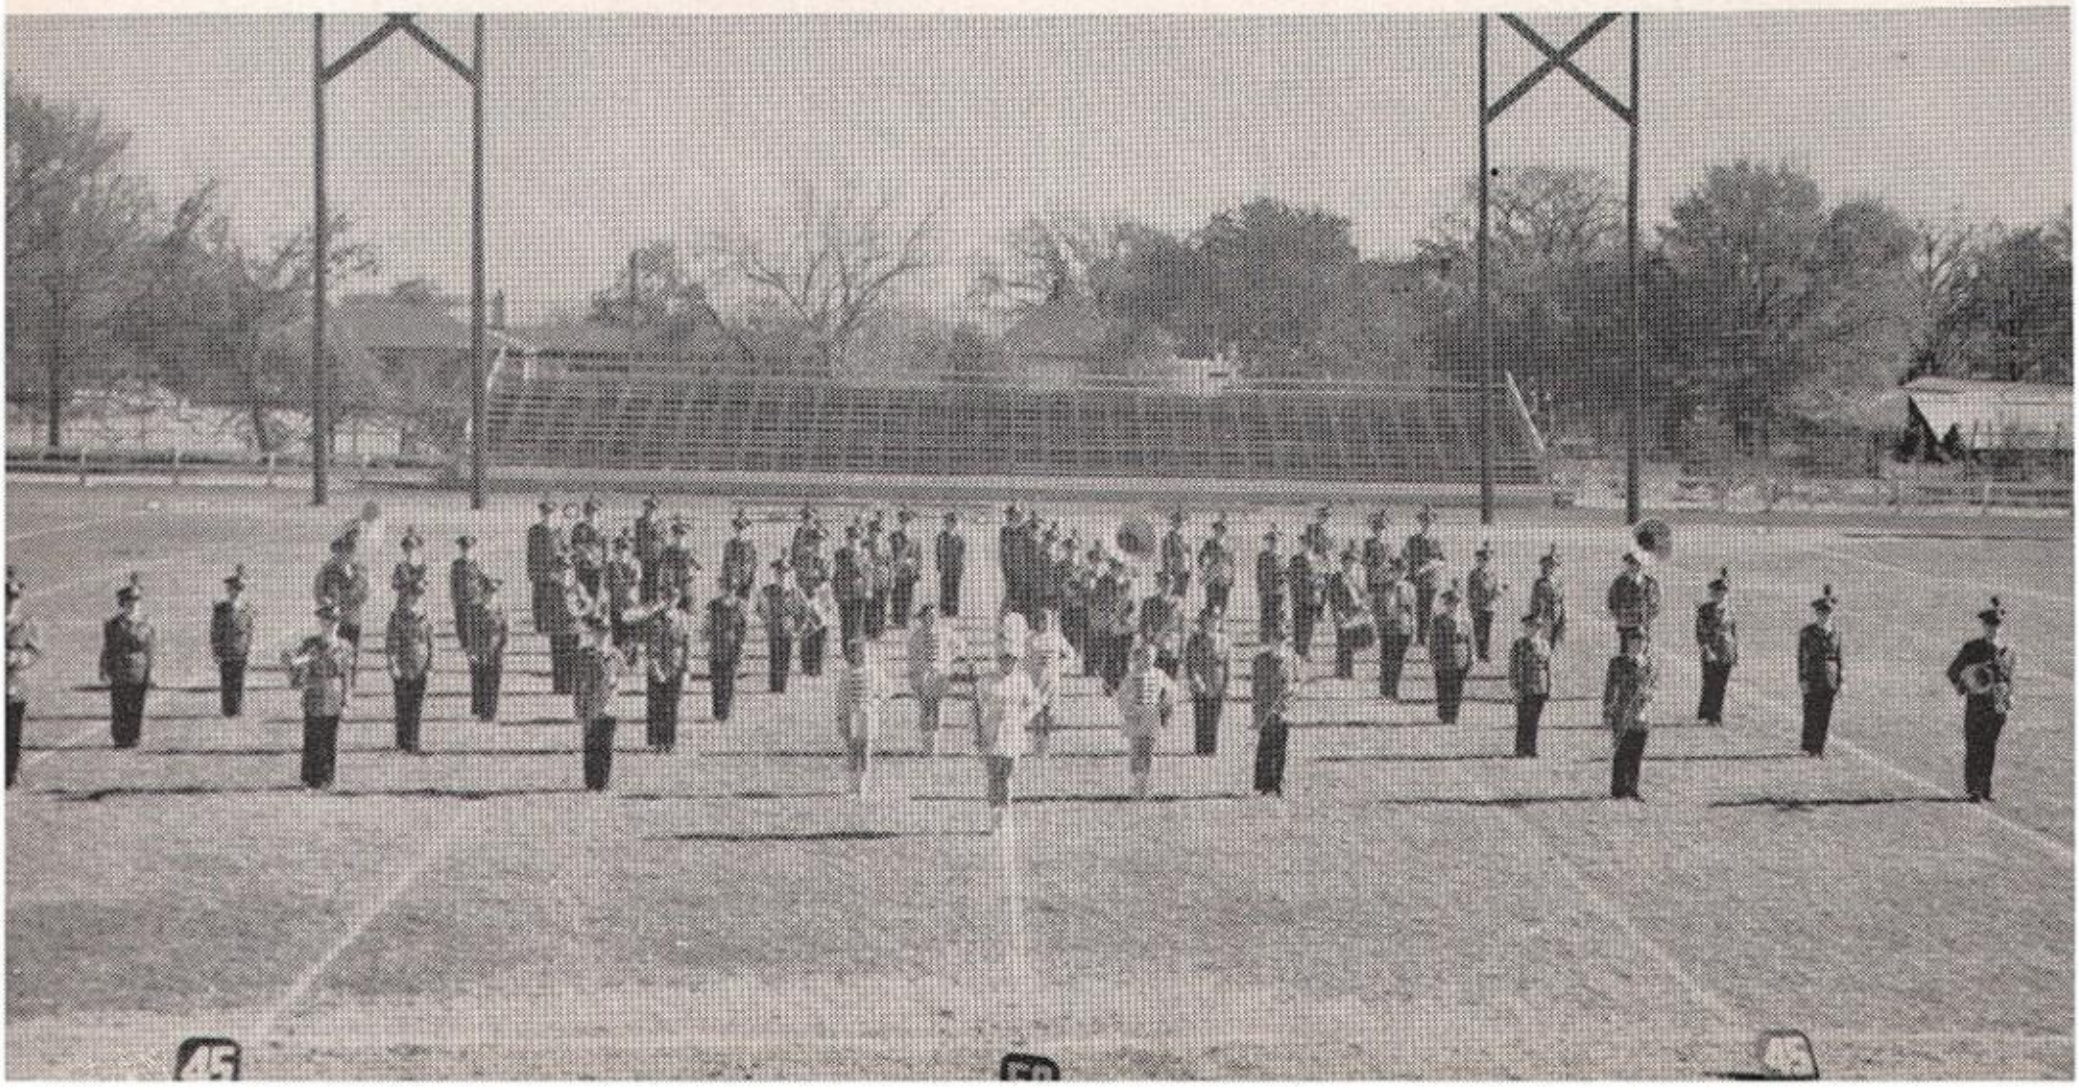
"There's Music In the Air"

The "sleepy heads" who live near Merrill Field were awakened to martial strains of snappy marches as the marching band practiced at 7:30 every morning last fall.

No football game would be complete without the band there to strike up "The Victory March" the second a touchdown is made.

On a cold December day the band braved the elements and participated in the Christmas Parade. They played Christmas marches.

The outstanding events of the year were contest at Shenandoah and the Diamond Jubilee at Audubon.



COMBO BAND—FIRST ROW: K. Hendersen, L. Maassen, P. Schell, K. Haskell, T. Savereide, N. Petersen. SECOND ROW: C. Rosman, D. Nelson, B. Wigness, K. Bauer, R. Pedersen.

"Shall We Dance?"

Let's Dance!! The Combo Band can certainly "give" with the music during their noon hour "jam sessions." The group is always in demand for school parties.

What a tremendous amount of noise the Pep Band makes for such a small group. These fifteen students, with Dick Nelson as student director, increase the enthusiasm at pep assemblies and games.

Their styles of music include marches and jazz which stimulate the spirit of both team and student body.

PEP BAND—FIRST ROW: D. Nelson, K. Hendersen, L. Maassen, P. Schell, P. Griffin, I. McKnabb, P. Savereide, R. Pedersen, K. Bauer, P. Peterson. SECOND ROW: T. Savereide, K. Haskell, J. Burke, C. The Candlelight Service was presented with the traditional Christmas music and narrative reading. Greenery, candles, and stained glass windows provided the setting for the annual program.

The usual custom of singing carols in the halls was also carried out this year.

The chorus didn't let the cold weather discourage their Christmas spirit at all. They rode on an open truck and sang carols in the Christmas Parade.

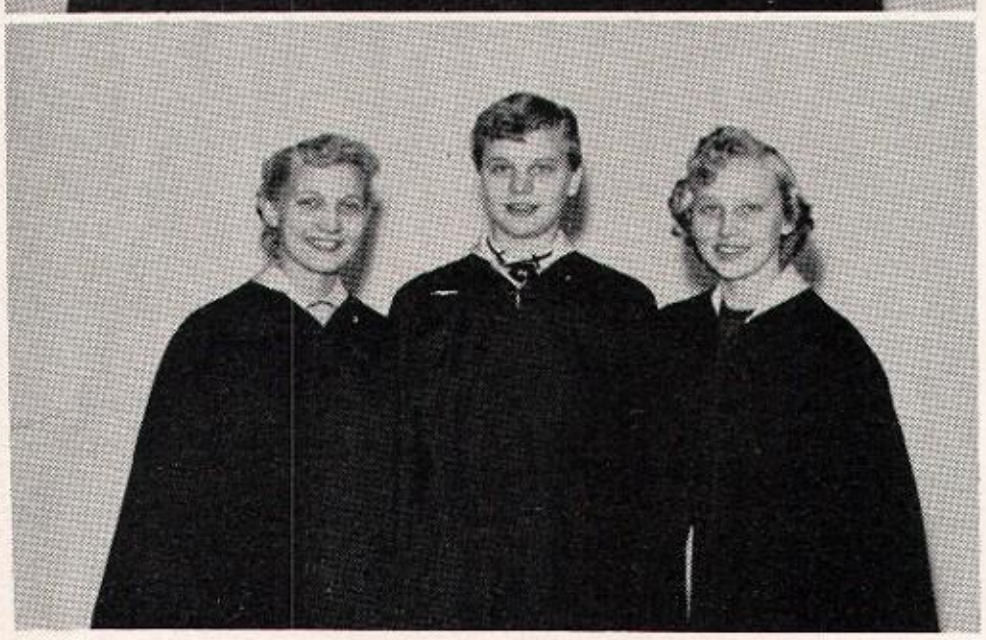
A small vocal group can usually be heard rehearsing any time of the day in the vocal music room.

Small groups take part in many phases of high school life and often perform at school parties and assemblies.

The two mixed quartets represented the vocal music department at the All-State Music Festival this year held in Des Moines.

Many members of each glee club are in vocal ensembles.



GIRLS' TRIO—N. Petersen, M. Sorensen, C. Heilesen.

"Gay Ninety Revue" Revives

"The Gay Ninety Revue," first school production of the year, consisted of music and drama from the "roaring twenties."

The evening's main feature, a melodrama entitled, "The City Slicker and Our Nell," was a tale of the encounters of Nell, a mountain girl, and Sheridan Douglas, a handsome, but dangerous, "city fellar." The climax not only revealed the villain's plan to obtain a deed to Nell's land, but also proved to Nell her true love for the honest and loyal, Dan Tucker.

Spirit of the Twenties

Another highlight of the show was the "Flora Dora Girls," a chorus line of eight old fashioned charmers. The Boys' Quartet harmonized their voices in the typical town barber shop, while Mary Stolz revived the style of the concert hall singer with two numbers from the bowery selections. Dressed in middies and bloomers, the Girls' Trio represented the "flappers" of the twenties with "By the Sea."

With only the light from his fire, Raymon Pedersen told the story of the "The Cremation of Sam McGee." The Four Jokers, clad in Dixieland costumes, presented a pantomime to "Dry Bones." Many songs were recollected by the company band and piano-roll music by Kathryn Sorenson.

Thirty-two students participated in the second annual all-school production of "The Gay Ninety Revue."

"The Curious Savage," a comedy on the surface with a moral beneath, was presented by the junior class to a near-capacity house. The play was directed by Mrs. Myrna Murken, with Pat Goeser as student director.

Setting for the play is the Cloisters, a private home for the insane; but the inmates are very gentle and harmless.

Junior Class Presents

The action centers around Mrs. Savage, who has been sent to the home by her covetous stepchildren, in an attempt to receive her wealth by declaring her insane.

Following a mad whirl of events, Mrs. Savage humiliates her stepchildren into realizing their selfishness, and she is free to leave the home. She hesitates to leave her friends who seem so happy and contented, but realizes theirs is only an "egg shell" world, and not for her or any other sane person.

Speech Students Receive "I" Ratings

On February 14 fourteen students went to the preliminary speech contest at Oakland. Those who received I ratings advanced to sub-district which was held in Harlan.

Jack Rossmann and Hugh Allen received I's in the Interpretative Reading division. A top rating was given to Lowell Henriksen with his original oration on juvenile delinquency. As there was no competition in the Extemporaneous Speaking section, Hugh Allen and Gary Poe were automatically advanced to the sub-district contest.

A drama, "The Lamb in the Window," was chosen as the one-act play to be entered in the speech contest this year. It was the story of a small town minister who resigned because his greedy congregation made him feel he had failed at his job. As the plot develops, the congregation realizes their faults and ask him to return. The cast, under the direction of Mrs. Murken, received a I rating, and advanced to sub-district contest.

"Submerged"

Thespians Stage Comedy,

This year's one-act plays consisted of a tragedy, a fantasy, and a comedy, and were directed by Mrs. Myrna Murken.

First on the program was the tragedy, "Submerged," which had an all-male cast. It told of six men's last few hours of life stranded at the bottom of the ocean in a submarine. Ray Pedersen was student director.

Lighter entertainment was featured next in a fantasy, "The Wonder Hat," with Elizabeth Jensen as student director. This play was about a young man who tried to escape from love with the aid of a mysterious wonder hat which made him invisible.

Last on the program was an amusing comedy entitled "Sunday Costs Five Pesos." This humorous play centered around a Mexican girl who became jealous when her boy friend went strolling with another girl. Mary Stolz acted as student director.

Mayor Election

Two of the candidates provided juicy watermelon chunks for their campaigners. Torch parades and snake dances also highlighted the mayor campaign.

"String Along with Jerry," "Hey, Hey, Vote for Ray," "Follow Hugh, He's for You," "Lee's Our Man," were a few of the signs seen around the halls during the campaign for student mayor.

Lee Christiansen defeated his opponents, Jerry Larson, Hugh Allen, and Raymond Pedersen, in an election, which saw one of the largest fields in school history.

School Parties

What freshman will ever forget his initiation into Harlan High School? Beanies, pigtails, ribbons, different colored shoes and socks were the distinguishing characteristics during their initiation.

They had to recite a poem, bow to all seniors and carry their books. The Mixer climaxed freshman week, and these memories will never be forgotten.

Even without any snow, our Christmas Snowball Dance was a great success. Blue-lighted Christmas trees and evergreen decorations furnished the beautiful background for the crowning of the queen, chosen by those who attended.

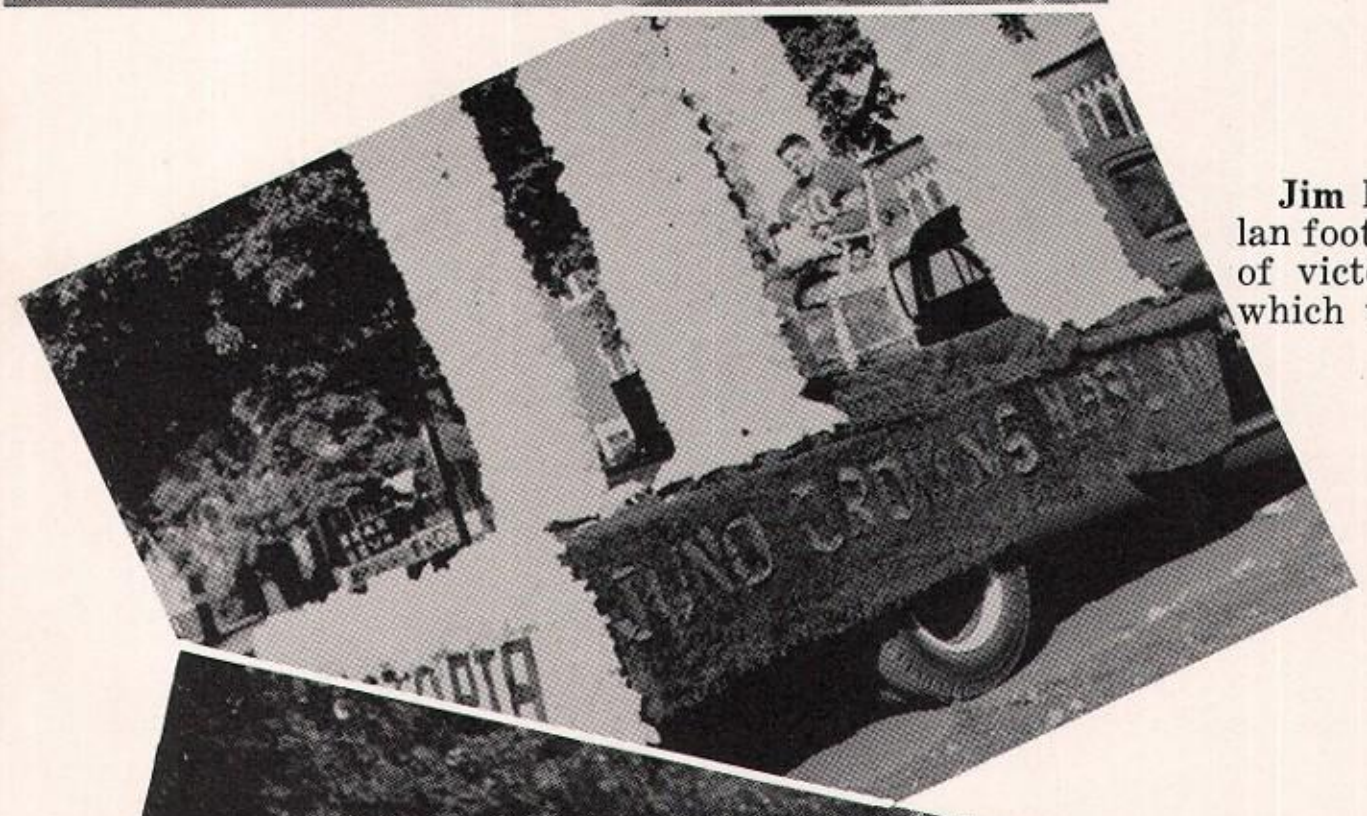
Dancing to the music of Jackie Edwards Orchestra was enjoyed by both students and alumni.

Halloween decorations highlighted the sweater swing following the Harlan-Atlantic football game.

A musical program and dancing provided by the Pep Club made this an unforgettable evening.

Homecoming

Mary Lou Sorensen and Mary Jane Jacobsen dressed up as cleaning ladies helped the H Club win first prize on their float.



Jim Polzois, representing the Harlan football players, sits on the throne of victory made by the Latin Club which won second prize.

Toting the defeated Ramblers back to Jeff on a stretcher carried by the victorious Cyclones was the idea of the Sophomore Class float that won third prize.

Festivities

Reigning over the 1953 Homecoming Festivities were Sam Walker and Shari Reimer.

The royal party, all seniors, was elected by the vote of the student body. Announcing the royal couple and attendants in the high school auditorium were two pages, Betty Booth and Katherine Rasmussen.

Student mayor, Lee Christiansen, crowned the king and queen and introduced their attendants.

The stage was decorated with a festive football theme, typical of the occasion

Jerry Colonna, famous Hollywood comedian, led the parade consisting of the royal party, the band, floats, clubs and representatives around the square. The day was climaxed by the Harlan-Jefferson football game and alumni Homecoming dance in the gym afterwards.

"Stand Up and Cheer

The Cyclones' season was very successful, considering the opponents which the team met.

The schedule the Cyclones played was the toughest in Southwest Iowa. The teams that downed Harlan were all champions of their own conference.

In one sense of the word, you might say, we were second place in the conference—Jefferson, Sac City, and Carroll were tied for first, Harlan and Ida Grove were tied for second while Denison was in the cellar.

We started the season with Red Oak, the Hawkeye Eight champs. They beat us 27-0, which was our worst defeat of the season. Still not adapted to our single-wing offense, we suffered another defeat by the Audubon Wheelers 26-7. The next week, we traveled to Carroll and played a much improved ball game, but came out on the bottom 25-7. In the next game, Harlan was considered an underdog by four touchdowns. The team surprised everyone by giving the Sac City Indians a hard fought ball game. This was a moral victory although losing 20-13. The team would just as soon forget the Jefferson game. Schraeder and Company ran the Cyclones ragged all night. This was a downfall from the week before; we lost 26-0. Underdogs wouldn't justify what we were rated as now, but this didn't bother the team in the 6-6 tie with Ida Grove. This baffled the experts, not saying what it did to the nome town. The week of joy finally came to the Cyclones as they defeated Logan 26-6. The following week, we played our traditional rival, Atlantic. Each player did his best in the hardest fought ball game of the year. We let down for two plays in the fourth quarter; this gave the Trojans time to score the winning touchdown. The score ended 12-6. November 6, the last game of the season, we traveled to Denison and won an overwhelming victory 26-7, although trailing at half time 6-7.

The season ended with a 2-6-1 record.

In spite of the fact that the Cyclones didn't bring home the Mid-West Conference championship, they were a team to be proud of.

They had their "off" nights and they had their good nights too. Most thrilling and best-played games of the season were the games with Atlantic and Sac City.
